

(May 2007)

"It is a rare speaker that combines wisdom, storytelling, a global perspective and the essence of a best selling author. Jason Jennings resonates with a wide range of individuals and business executives and in my mind, does it all. What I value about his presentations is that he tailors his message to each group, which conveys authenticity and a close connection with his audience.

A skilled and talented professional, Jason works with groups before, during and after his presentations. He's the consummate speaker for any business event. We look forward to the next opportunity to learn and grow with Jason!"

Joel Hoiland, CAE

President

Window & Door Manufacturers Association

